

On behalf of the Founders and the Board of Directors we are very pleased to announce the official appointment of Brooks McAdam as COO (Chief Operating Officer) at Camber Spine.

Brooks joined Camber Spine in 2020 as Director of Clinical Education and Training where he was instrumental in the growth and success of Camber Spine's Proprietary OLIF System. While serving as VP of Operations in this past year he has led the charge on a reorganization of our infrastructure as well as the development and implementation of systems to manage more efficiently, supply chain, customer service and fulfillment. These organizational changes are critical to ensure Camber's future growth. Brooks has shown himself to be a proven leader and we firmly believe that he that he will play an even more significant role in the executive leadership of the company as we move towards the future. Please join us in congratulating Brooks in this well-deserved promotion.
